Tithing & How To Get There

Have you ever noticed how it always seems to be the “season for giving”? Giving to the church for stewardship; giving gifts for Christmas; giving thanks on Thanksgiving; giving presents for birthdays, anniversaries, showers, and all those other “special” occasions. With all this giving, did you ever wonder where the money tree is so you could afford all this giving? This short course on tithing, offers some suggestions and commentary on how we look at giving (stewardship/tithing) and ways to make it affordable (financial planning).

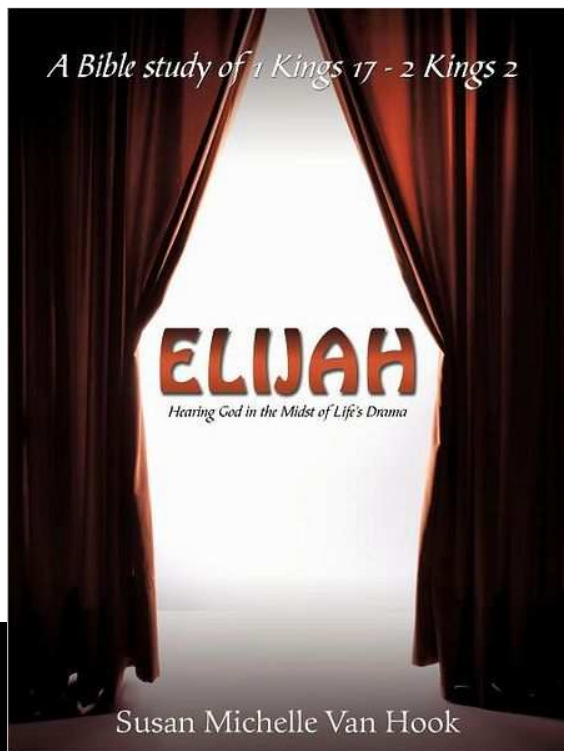

Paul Stephenson also wrote Salt of the Earth ISBN: 978-1-4583-3289-9. This book is also published by Lulu.

Elijah: Hearing God in the Midst of Life's Drama

Life is full of drama.

How can we know the Lord is speaking to us? How can we hear God when our lives are so busy?

We can learn to listen for God's voice to help us make sense of it all. ELIJAH: Hearing God in the Midst of Life's Drama is a Bible study using the story of the prophet Elijah in 1 Kings 17-2 Kings 2. It teaches how we can hear God's voice clearly, as Elijah did, in the midst of our own chaos, laughter, heartache, victory, and tears. But will we allow God to interrupt the harried pace of our days to speak to us?

What is your story? Will you commit to the challenge of being Elijah's understudy? If you listen closely, God will teach you straight from the script of His Word the valuable role He has for you to play in this world!

Tarek S. Niazi holds a Bachelor degree and a Masters degree in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science respectively. He worked at IBM for twenty-five years in various positions. As an entrepreneur, he established and ran investment, consulting, and project integration services companies. Niazi's interests run the gamut from geology to history, astronomy to theology, and most of the sciences, including physics. His global travels have given him a deep appreciation for the mosaic of life and culture on Earth.

More Than 60 Minutes sets out to inform the general public why and how the extreme amount of geological occurrences are happening today and if global warming fits into the equation.

The book connects the alarming increase in number of Earthquakes and Volcanoes in recent years, the weakening of Earth's magnetic field, the direct relation between the Thermosphere layer and the Temperature Belts, the melting/rebuilding of the Ice Caps, the shifting of Temperature Belts and the increase of average global temperature. It proves that global warming is not anthropogenic. It explains the role that the Inner and Outer Cores of our planet play in fixing the speed of Earth rotation about its axis, and moves back through history and geology records to establish cycle of repetition where different and interconnected changes gradually developed and took the planet by surprise. The research anticipates changes at the global precipitation map and recommends strategies along selected industries such as Agriculture, Energy and Infrastructure; to minimize the impact and to come better prepared for the immediate future.

The book answers:

Why Earthquakes, above 6 Richter, have increased "tenfold" since 2003?

What makes the Earth to spin about its axis?

Why it slows down at times and speeds up at other times?

What is the relation between the strength of the magnetic field and Earth's surface temperature?

Why are the Ice Caps melting?

Are the Temperature Belts tilting from their current latitudes?

Are the Earth's geo-layers spherical or oblate?

How come the cycle of severe climate change is 3,500 years?

How did it influence human development in the past?

How can Quantum Physics help us understand and leverage the Universe Energy and Knowledge around us?

And much, much more.

A New Birth of Freedom: The Visitor

When a stranger carrying a shiny, metallic valise steps aboard a train carrying Abraham Lincoln home from a 2 year stint in Congress, everyone stares, wondering about the stranger's odd clothing and strange footwear with the word Nike emblazoned on them. When the strange man shows up in Lincoln's office at the White house 14 years later, still wearing the same clothes, carrying the same valise and looking not a day older, the president and his staff know something is odd. But when Edwin Blair opens his valise and projects a 3-D image of the Earth on Lincoln's wall, then proceeds to tell a fanciful tale about time traveling aliens preparing to land at Gettysburg on July 3rd, 1863 they are sure they've met a lunatic. Unfortunately for them, they're wrong.

Tis the first book of a SF trilogy involving time-travel, alternate-history and double first-contact themes. www.robertgpielke.com

Sarona

A gripping historical novel set in the 1930s when Palestine was a melting pot of ethnicities, cultures and religious backgrounds.

Living in the German settlement of Sarona is Erich, a young German, who falls deeply in love with Ruth, a beautiful young Jewess, living in a nearby Jewish village. Their secret and forbidden love continues despite the world events around them that threatens their relationship with problems far beyond the normal bounds of boy meets girl. Palestine is eventually engulfed by three-way political violence. Events in their own settlements not only threatens their love but also their lives. However despite war, despite distance, despite the ridicule of others, Erich and Ruth fight for the love they have found.

The novel comes to a dramatic conclusion in Tel Aviv in 2009.
